A Personal Place

"Hail to Vernon High School
Honor and all praise.
Hail to Alma Mater,
true to thee we'll be always."

Students of VHS unite in the singing of these words, but they often fail to recognize the true meaning behind them. We on the 1975 Yamparika staff hope to provide the student body with an insight to the relationship between the song and the personal place for which it stands.

During the four years that a student spends at Vernon High School, he acquires many experiences that will live locked in his memory as he passes through life. It is these fleeting moments in time that we strive to capture in pictures.

Our years at VHS influence our ideas and values in later life. Truly, Vernon High School is a personal place, not only to the students, but to the community which supports it as well. We are fortunate in that our principal, Mr. James Easley, contributes his own personal touch to our yearbook by permitting one of his paintings, Legendary, to be used on the cover.

With this last thought we close . . .

"Thru thy hallowed portals
'Til the end of time
Send thy sons and daughters
to stand beside immortals,
Hail to thee old Vernon High."

Blowing tumbleweeds reflect the free spirit of this personal place in which we live. This sketch by William Clay, taken from his book entitled Moods of the Prairie, symbolizes the rolling plains area. Wind and sand are familiar conditions to local and area residents.
Activities

Ranging from school, community, and the nation, the activities of the student body at VHS are increasingly varied. The students contribute much time and energy to these activities as they become more personally aware of the happenings around them.

From the time the freshmen experience their first pep rally and Lion's Den to the final parties and proceedings before graduation day, each individual has matured through the new responsibilities he assumes during his high school years.

The student of the 1974-75 school year makes his own action in such places as the back hall, in classrooms, through stage productions, and by school-related group performances. His abilities are challenged through participation in competitive sports, including football, basketball, volleyball, track, golf, and tennis, and in such fields as forensics, choir, and band. Each person's involvement in these activities is a personal commitment to both himself and his school.

Many students exercised their right to vote for the first time this year, whether in school elections like student council officers and Valentine's Queen or elections on the local and national level in November. With this privilege of voting comes the realization of hard-hitting inflation and dollar-consuming income tax.

The fusing of an individual with the activities of his choice is what it's all about in this personal place of ours that is Vernon High School.

Rural life on the Low Plains, personal to the Wilbarger County region, is portrayed at left by artist William Clay.
Summer Practice Is Hot But Fun

Along with the fun of summer, preparations for the school year were being made in the hot days of July and August. Many trips to the lake and the swimming pool were made to try to cool off after hours in the sun. With June vacations over, school organizations gathered to begin practices for the coming of fall. Two-a-days for the football players signified the approach of the '74 Lion season, while the band and drill team worked hard on routines for their half-time performances. The hours of practice did not seem so long when old friends had the chance to visit.

(1) Karen Huie, Julie Betts, Susie Jones, Brenda King, and Kathy Zaicek enjoy their last days of summer leisure.

(2) Combining their efforts at musical composition during a summer session are several members of the VHS band.

(3) During an evening practice at the park, members of a drill team squad learn a new routine for a future performance.

(4) Varsity football players listen to the strategy of a coach before they complete the afternoon's work-out.
Registration Is A Tough Chore

Even though these sophomores have gone through registration before, they still find the aid of Mrs. Agnes Russell and senior Stephanie Meads helpful.

Taking a breather from the hectic job of registering students, principal James Easley relaxes with a cup of coffee.

Before school has started, every student is initiated into one of the more trying ordeals of high school life. With registration each student faces the difficult task of choosing which teacher to take at what period. Topmost in everyone's mind is the wish to be in a class with his friends. Freshman students are amazed at the long and tedious time involved, while experienced seniors move steadily to completion of their final schedule. Success triumphs when a student has worked and reworked his classes until he achieves personal satisfaction.
Classes Offer Variations

(2) With a twinkle in her eye, Mrs. Pat Schmoker laughs at the frivolities of that unforgettable sophomore class.

(3) The jolly giant, Mr. Raymond Boykin, smiles down on his American History students as he towers over the desks.

(4) Unaware of the photographer, Pam Hardin, a quad-editor, anxiously confers with her advisor Mrs. Jasimine Pace.
New Life Abounds In Classroom

Normal classroom activities have a wide scope at VHS. Teachers are just as versatile as the students in that they become involved in school projects. Many teachers spend their free time in order to sponsor various organizations and clubs such as Rodeo Club, PASF, FTA, FCA, and drill team.

Lively students find novel and distinct ways to avoid the sometimes hum-drum classroom life. Certain boys have been known to place a life-like rubber snake in a teacher's briefcase, while a group of scientifically minded girls note the before and after appearance of a pencil which has been charred by the flames of a Bunsen burner. And, of course, spontaneous jokes and gossip rank high in normal classroom behavior.

John Walker is about to get his just reward for his typical classroom behavior. Mrs. Marilyn Marsh prepares to hit him on the head, hoping to stimulate his mind toward constructive activity.

A séance in English class? Unbelievably, yes. Mrs. Jawmne Pace, along with students Joann Carter, Judd Rogers, and Debbie Willis, attempt to move this table through the powers of meditation.
Courtyard Stirs With Activity

As one of the few places in Vernon High School where students can converge and talk freely, the cafeteria is a bustle of activity. Besides eating, kids have fun together doing such things as yelling to boost spirit for athletics, having birthday parties for friends, and playing with food.

Realizing that the minutes of their lunch period are ticking away swiftly, Scott Fredrick and Keith Cypert desire to enjoy fully those last few moments.

Before the noon rush, the courtyard stands empty and silent. But with the sound of the lunch bell, students begin pouring through its doors on their way to the cafeteria. The courtyard provides a pleasant and refreshing atmosphere where many students enjoy eating lunch. Once again, however, a bell calls the students back to classes, and the courtyard is empty and silent as before.
A-lunch is always lively when there is a group of girls such as Drucy Craighead, Georganna Copeland, Judy Phipps, Mary Beth Hemphill, and Pam Spears.

While decorating the stage for the Veteran's Day assembly, these Student Council and NHS members cook up this enticing menu for the coming Monday. Chief cooks are Leah Birnbaum, Taz Thomas, Mark Lehman, Russell Pruitt, Pam Hardin, Randy Rallis, and Gary Doherty.

Pre-Game Flurry
Moves Emotions

Climaxed by the game between Vernon and Iowa Park, homecoming preparations have been in the making for some time. Band and drill team began working on their routines weeks ago while many students spent long hours making signs and assisting with building of the bonfire.

Fanfare activities are heightened by the performances of the Lionettes as they execute a unique precision routine.

Following tradition, a band sweetheart is crowned at half-time of the homecoming game. This year’s candidates are Carmen Tobar and escort Harry Thompson, Dianne Brandt and Taz Thomas, Sweetheart Cynthia Nava and Randy Carpenter, and Patty Johnson and Tommy Haning.
With the blazing bonfire illuminating the night sky, spirit is aroused as onlookers contemplate Friday's big game.

Leading an energetic yell, cheerleaders contribute to the crowd's personal involvement in homecoming activities.
Anxiety Felt By All

Beaming with pride only moments after the coronation ceremony, Mrs. Perry Barnes embraces her elated daughter, Donna.

"Is it that time already?" asks an apprehensive Jim Parmer. Surprise registers on the faces of the escorts as they realize the crowning of the queen is at hand. Escorts are Bobby McMahan, Gerald Proctor, Kim Kidd, Jim Parmer, Mark Lehman, Terry Jones, and John Leslie.

Composing the 1974 Homecoming court are senior nominees and their escorts Cyndy Walker and Mark Lehman, Laurel Wooldridge and Bobby McMahan, Karen Naylor and Kim Kidd, Stephanie Meads and Terry Jones, Sueann Denison and Gerald Proctor, and Luann Byrd and John Leslie.
Donna Barnes
Designated Queen

Newly crowned at the Homecoming pep rally is Donna Barnes, radiant with the happiness of this honor. Her escort is Jim Parme, a varsity football player.

Serving as the master and mistress of ceremonies at the homecoming coronation are Gary Doherty and Deana Wright.

Throughout the football season anticipation mounts as the final home game draws near. Anxiously awaited is the selection of the queen and her court. Girls become increasingly excited at the prospect of homecoming dates and receiving those special mums.

Townspeople are drawn closer to their Alma Mater and welcome the reunion with ex-students as they return home to be a part of the occasion. Even through bitter cold, spectators show their support for the Lions by flocking to all the activities relating to homecoming. There will always remain a personal place in everyone’s heart for these memories.
Students And Teachers Mix

(1) Utilizing a lesson on meal planning and table setting are Linda Richardson, Sheila Ramsey, and Nancy Graf.

(2) Making a long dress in Homemaking II class, Barbara Hall is receiving helpful hints from Mrs. Nadine Martin.

(3) Mickey Alambar is seen helping Jimmie Collier with an assignment as Plan A teacher Mrs. Georgia Copeland looks over Jimmie's shoulder.

(4) With a look of astonishment on her face, Miss Vickie Carden is caught helping Denise Damron find her papers.
Learning Proven Not Always Bad

Although many students do not stop to think about it, the primary purpose of the educational system is to make it possible for the individual to learn. Many different methods are employed throughout all grade levels in order to improve each student's mind. Group discussions are popular in that they encourage participation by everyone. Also, lab classes afford the opportunity for members to see the results of their experiments instead of just reading about them in books. The most recent method in Vernon is Plan A Education, specializing in a one-to-one relationship between the teacher and student. Students who see these benefits and take advantage of them will be the most productive and well-rounded citizens.

The map of Texas appears to amuse sophomore government students Ladd Byars, Lynn Tyra, and Lonnie Hawkins while Eunice Gable and Cindy Kelley find their project to be of a more serious nature.

Laura Wooldridge adds finishing touches to her sketch with the advice of Mr. William Brand, art instructor. In the background, Bobby Stillwell returns from the display board with ideas for his own drawing.
Students Rewarded Honors

(1) Mark Lehman, posing with his steer Gear-Jammer, received the Gold Star award for his top achievements in 4-H.

(2) Mr. Francis Todd, vocational agriculture teacher, proudly displays his Honorary American Farmer Degree award.

(3) At the district FTA meeting held in Graham Linda Myers was elected to the office of historian for the 1975-76 school year. Also selected was Lezlie Craighead to be alternate voting delegate at the state convention. Linda and Lezlie begin work on the FTA scrapbook.

(4) As girls' state and boys' state representatives, Susan Belew and Gerald Proctor were chosen from among their classmates to serve Vernon High School during the summer.

(5) A girl was chosen weekly by the drill team to be "Lionette of the Week" because of her contributions to the overall spirit for that game. Seniors receiving this distinction were Debbie Reese, Lora Hopper, Georganna Cope, Laun Byrd, Amy Hightower, Deana Wright, Lydia King, and Leann Adams.
Class Produces
Wayward Saints

(1) A fight scene is enacted by Harlequin, played by Tommy Baldwin and Scapino, played by Gary Doherty. Harlequin is the manager of the company while Scapino is a type character of an acrobat.

(2) Taking a bow after a successful dress rehearsal are the company of "Wayward Saints." Director, student director, and cast members include Mrs. Barbara Hughes, Amy Hightower, Tommy Baldwin, Gary Doherty, Roger Beam, Lydia King, Rhonda Pistole, Pam Hardin, Randy Beisner, Eddie Schumann, and Walter Webb.

(3) Ruffiana, the Tart, played by Pam Hardin, asks Scapino, played by Gary Doherty, for "just one little ole kiss."

(4) Portraying the history of man beginning with Adam and Eve are Tristano, the Lover and Isabella, the Sweetheart. Tristano, played by Roger Beam and Isabella, played by Lydia King awaken with a yawn under the Tree of Knowledge.

(5) Pantalone, the devoted father, consults Colombine, the marriage counselor, concerning a possible husband for his wealthy daughter. However, the daughter's interests are suddenly forgotten when Pantalone decides to marry Colombine. Pantalone, the Old Man, is played by Eddie Schumann and Rhonda Pistole plays the role of Colombine, the Nag.
Luann and Bobby Are Favorites

Selected Couple Show Most Pride

Excitement and expectation led up to the moment when All School Favorites were announced. Seniors Luann Byrd and Bobby McMahan were elected to share this honor because of their outgoing and winning personalities.

Due to their involvement in so many activities, Luann and Bobby have an opportunity to meet and associate with a large number of Vernon High School students. Their friendliness betrays their interest in their fellow students, and they are always willing to lend an ear. A feeling of sincerity radiates from them and causes others to cherish their friendship.

Also high in the favor of the student body were runners-up Cyndy Walker and Gary Doherty. The position they fill is one of importance and esteem as well.

Pride in VHS makes everyone choose favorites of whom they can be proud. Luann and Bobby, through their involvement, equally deserve this title.

Providing pleasant surroundings in which Vernon High School students can both work and play, the library is daily used by a large number of people. Research material is available for all needs as well as a wide selection of fiction and non-fiction books. Music, chess, and reading are only a few of the fun activities in which students are employed in their spare time.

Mrs. Mildred Wall, librarian, is always eager to help each student personally. Her friendly attitude makes the library an informal place where students like to gather often.

Relaxing with an intriguing game of chess, sophomore library assistants Jeff Haynes and Keith Cypert concentrate on the strategy of their moves. Everyone can enjoy a peaceful game of chess in the quiet atmosphere of the library.

A recent addition to the library equipment is a set of headphones. Demonstrating their use are assistants Russell Pruitt, Carolyn Leist, and Daisy Knippa.
Library Workers Perform Service

(1) Susan Frith and Sue Brooks box reels of film to be returned to the Region IX Service Center. Handling all of the incoming and out-going material is a duty of library assistants.

(2) Audio-visual material is kept in a storage room in the library. Karen Phillips and Jack Mouser take a television set to a room where a program that has been recorded will be viewed.

(3) Working behind the desk are library assistants Theresa Patlan and Ramona Blalock. They are constantly busy checking books in and out for students while also keeping a list of overdue books. Assistants often leave the desk in order to help students find just the right book for their individual needs.
Office Assistants Render Help to Many

A break in the day comes for an office assistant when he begins his duties. The routine of lectures and homework is forgotten as the assistant directs his attentions toward helping the school staff. One chore that must always be carried out is collecting absence slips. Other duties range from running errands to making announcements. The experience gained by working with other people is valuable as it inspires pride and self-confidence.

As one of the first jobs of the day, Donna Barnes notes absences in a record book. Jim Parmer, another office helper, looks up information in the student file for Mrs. Mary Kingsley.

Fourth period office assistants Robin Eads, Doug Duffie, Kathy Fluhmann, and Carey Joe Cardwell await the instructions of administrative personnel before beginning their tasks.
(1) Jewell Waggoner and Mary Quillen sort faculty mail during fifth period. This is a service that must be performed and is appreciated by the teachers.

(2) "Vernon High School. May I Help you?" asks Carmen Haro as she answers the phone. Calls through the office are courteously handled by office assistants and messages are speedily delivered.

(3) Proving that office activities are not always work, Mark Osteen and Steve Cooner, fifth period assistants, pause to joke with the photographer and break the monotony of a routine errand.
Students Utilize Leisure Minutes, Hours

Leisure activities are just as much a part of high school life as are school activities. No matter how heavy the load of homework becomes, students can always find the time to enjoy themselves a bit.

Students of VHS can be seen at all times of the day in all kinds of interesting situations. Whether it is playing pool or working in the yard, any activity involving these energetic people looks like lots of fun.

Rickey Hannah, Doug Duffie, Elise Moore, Larry Doty, and Robin Eads help wash Robin's new car on a chilly day.
(1) Paul Jacob looks on while Tim Randall expertly executes a shot in close game of pool. (2) Neighbors Brenda Minarik and Brenda Scott get into the Christmas spirit as they select Christmas trees from the Optimist Club lot. (3) Alexa and Cherry Brown find that raking leaves is not all work. (4) As his sister Deana plays a popular tune on the piano, Roy Wright accompanies.
Cosmetology Is A Useful Course

Vernon High School is fortunate to be involved in a Cosmetology program with Vernon Regional Junior College. High school Juniors and Seniors have an opportunity to get their training behind them so they can take the state examination and receive their beautician’s license. The course now in its second year is taught by Mrs. Ailene Rushing and is beneficial to those involved.

(1) Washing the set out of a wig, Theresa Patlan prepares to reset the hair in a new style.

(2) As part of her cosmetology training, Debbie Brooks sets the hair on a wig for Mrs. Ailene Rushing’s inspection.

(3) All cosmetology work is not done with model heads as Alberta Zipperle demonstrates while working.
(1) Pleasure in her work is reflected in the face of Terri Burnett as the hairdo of her model begins to acquire that special look. Teasing hair is one way in which these future beauticians are taught to achieve a unique style.

(2) Janice Bodling, second year student, practices beauty techniques she has learned in the Cosmetology lab on a customer. Janice knows that to fix hair properly, she must conform the hair-style to each individual.

(3) Intent on the work before them are Howard Ford and Carolyn Fleeks. Howard prepares the model's hair for rolling while Carolyn adds finishing touches to her artfully styled model. After completion of the project, Mrs. Ailene Rushing will judge their workmanship.
VHS Students Share Their Time

(1) Flora Hite, a new member of the Blue Angels, works in the gift shop of Wilbarger General Hospital with the help of Charlotte Grantham.

(2) Blue Angels Rachael Perez and Cyndi Walker are caught in the hospital elevator taking the juice cart up to deliver assorted juices to the patients.

(3) Dying eggs to deliver to patients at Vernon Center North for the annual Easter party are Freshman Horizon Club members Joy Denison and Gina Brazzle.

Blue Angels, Horizon Club, and the Teacher Experience Program are just a few of the activities that involve many students at Vernon High School. Although they are not all school-related, students find these worthwhile projects to be personally satisfying. Working on a strictly voluntary basis, students show their cooperation with the community. The community, in turn, shows its appreciation to the students through continual support of the many different projects.
Teens Involved Helping Others, Selves

(1) Leann Adams, Cyndy Walker, Mrs. Sue Harvey, and Lil Prehn tour Center North with Mrs. Pauline Speer. The senior Horizon Club groups are working toward the WoHeLo medallion and must meet certain requirements such as becoming more involved in community and school affairs.

(2) With a look of toleration, TEP student Scott Bearden points out a new word to a bewildered first grader in Mrs. Sarah Crawford's room at Hawkins Elementary School. Scott has the responsibility of organizing games during afternoon recess as well as tutoring three boys in reading skills.

(3) As part of her teacher training, Dawn McGee works with Mrs. Pat Mints and Mrs. Kay Belew in the Vernon Intermediate School art department. Because of rotating schedules at Intermediate, Dawn has the opportunity to assist with both fifth and seventh grade students.
Good Times Are Spent Together

Located on the top floor of City Hall, the Lion’s Den is a chief source of fun for Vernon High School students. It is open after home football and basketball games, and on special occasions such as Valentine’s and Yamparika Day. The Lion’s Den provides a needed place for many young people to go.

(1) Having fun is really what the Lion’s Den is all about. Johnny Pruitt and Greg Tyra demonstrate this idea as they prepare to use Starla McGee’s head as one of the balls for their pool game. Pool is only one of the many attractions that draw people to the Lion’s Den.

(2) D’Yon Hawkins and her partner, Monica Lovelace, engage in a game of ping-pong at the Lion’s Den after the last home basketball game. These freshman students, along with their classmates find that their first year of high school is more fun when they have a gathering place like the Lion’s Den.

(3) Lion’s Den sponsors greet Vernon High School students to check their membership cards, receive their money, and stamp their hands for identification. Arriving at the Lion’s Den are ex-student Mike Warden and VHS students Connie Hawkins and Steven Lewis.
Lion's Den Is A Personal Place

Recreation activities at the Lion's Den include dancing, playing pool and ping-pong, visiting with friends, and relaxing around the snack counter. Because people make their own entertainment there, the Lion's Den becomes a personal place during one's high school years.

There is a special place in the Lion's Den reserved for dancing only. As seen in this picture, all classes from freshmen through seniors and including exes enjoy letting themselves go to the beat of different kinds of music. Bands from the surrounding area provide hard rock and country and western sounds.

Dane Mount stands poised with his cue stick as he watches his fellow player, Scott Fredrick, take his shot. Competition at the pool table often becomes serious as players work to achieve more skill and perfection at their game.
New Members Are Inducted In NHS

Character, leadership, scholarship, and service are the four criteria for induction into the National Honor Society. Nineteen new members were inducted in ceremonies held in the Little Theater on the night of February 13, 1975 at VHS.

(1) Slyly smiling, senior Russell Pruitt taps out an unsuspecting junior, Doug Duffie, as Doug listens to a perplexing problem about elementary analysis. (2) Finding senior John Streit busy in the advanced science lab, Taz Thomas taps him out for National Honor Society on Tap-Out day, February 7, 1975. (3) Mrs. Pat Miller, sponsor of National Honor Society, stands behind the register table at the reception following the induction ceremony. (4) New members of NHS include bottom row: Jimmy Dennis, Alan Thames, Tommy Baldwin, Jack Johnson, Leslie Schewlile. 2nd row: Doug Duffie, Elise Moore, Linda Myers, Beverly Layton, Belinda Lee, Alesia Reinisch, Kathy Rozzell, Lavonna Beazley, Walter Webb. Top row: Gary Frederick, Gerald Proctor, and John Streit. Not shown are inductees Mark Lehman and Dawn Fowler.
New Rodeo Club Provides Action

As one of the newest organizations at VHS, the Rodeo Club was established in 1974 under the sponsorship of Mr. John Selman. Among the events at the youth rodeos are calf roping, wild cow milking, steer saddling, goat tying, and the rescue race. Because of its growing personal interest, rodeos are involving more and more people, both fans and contestants.

(1) Exhibiting her expert skill at barrel racing during the local 4-H youth rodeo is junior Melinda Rutherford.

(2) Mark Lehman, president of Rodeo Club, is cheered by spectators as he participates in the bull riding contest.

(3) Bareback bronc riding provides stiff competition for sophomore contestant Joe Combest in the August rodeo.
Valentine's Day
Queen Is Sueann

As the season of love came to VHS, with it came the excitement and activity evolving around Valentine's Day. Masters of ceremonies were Mark Lehman and Russell Pruitt. They related the story of the first love between man and woman, that of Adam and Eve. Music was provided by the stage band with a special song by flutist Diana Williams accompanied on piano by Luann Byrd. Student Council advisor, Raymon Boykin, headed the preparations for the assembly.

Valentine's Day escorts and candidates for Queen are Terry Smith and Donna Barnes, John Leslie and Luann Byrd, Darrell Gower and Georganna Copeland, Terry Jones and Stephanie Meads, Russ Haney and Karen Naylor, Eddie Schumann and Cyndy Walker. All nominees are seniors.

Crown bearer Jerry Gibbons escorts flower girl Jennifer Rowe onto the stage for the crowning ceremony. Traditionally, a boy and girl are selected by the Student Council to assist with the Valentine's Day assembly.
Scott Bearden and Sueann Denison

Sueann Denison, newly crowned Valentine Queen, receives an affectionate hug from High School principal, Mr. James Easley, as other well-wishers await their turn to congratulate her.

As hosts of the 1975 Valentine's Day assembly, seniors Russell Pruitt and Mark Lehman express humor in their dialogue to ease the tension before announcing the name of the Queen.
Senior Musical Means Hard Work

Seniors unite to produce their musical "No, No, Nanette." Cast members worked hard to make the play a success as evidenced by these rehearsal pictures. All seniors share responsibility as they sell tickets and help the night of the play. Proceeds from sales go to the senior class.

(1) With a look of exasperation Sue Smith wonders at her niece's questionable behavior. Sue Smith, guardian of Nanette, is played by Lydia King and the young socialite, Nanette, is Pam Hardin.

(2) Betty Brown makes a play for Jimmy Smith, husband of Sue, as Flora Latham looks jealously. The floozies, Betty and Flora, are played by Karen Naylor and Laurel Wooldridge, and the husband is portrayed by Roger Beam.

(3) During night rehearsal at the auditorium, dance partners get together to perfect their routines. Husband and wife, Lucille and Billy Early, are played by Rhonda Pistole and Gary Doherty.

(4) Leah Birnbaum and Mike Railsback belong to Nanette social circle.

(5) Other friends and chorus members are Mark Lehman and Cyndy Walker.
Upon arrival at Chickadee Cottage, Winnie Winslow, right, meets Pauline, the maid, who directs Winnie to her room. As the third floozy in the play, Winnie is played by Luann Byrd and Amy Hightower portrays the maid. (2) While Luann Byrd goes over the script, Eddie Schumann stands defiant against the pleading eyes of Pam Hardin. The character of Tom Trainor, fiance of Nanette, who is anxious for the security of marriage, is played by Eddie. Nanette, who wants only to have fun and be grown up, is portrayed by Pam. (3) Tim Randall, stage manager, and his assistant, junior Mark King, pause from their many duties backstage, including set preparations, lighting, and running errands. (4) Roger Beam and Lydia King demonstrate a dip during the song “Take A Little One Step” in the third act of the play. (5) Billy and Jimmy try to prevent their wives, Lucille and Sue, from entering Chickadee Cottage and discovering the three floozies. These characters are played by seniors Gary Doherty, Lydia King, Rhonda Pistole, and Roger Beam.
Organizations

This personal place of ours offers a wide variety of clubs, societies and organizations. A student can participate in almost any field of his interest by joining the club of his choice. Or even better, getting to feel the personal pride when he is selected to such organizations as Quill and Scroll or National Honor Society.

For those who enjoy foreign languages, there are Spanish and French clubs. There are many work programs, such as VOF, ICT, DE, and HECE, for the students who enjoy working outside of Vernon High. Students who are interested in planning ahead for the future find pleasure in organizations like FHA and FFA. The Student Council is for those students who like to lead instead of follow. Some people like to work with teachers and other students. They will find their happiness in FTA and TEP. Or if one would rather show his emotions outwardly, there is the Drama Club and Forensics. For those who like the more extracurricular activities in other fields, there are clubs such as Jets, Aviation Club, Auto Mechanics, and Rodeo Club.

Cheerleaders, Drill Team, and Band are a few more of the organizations from which to choose. They support the Lions in any sport.

Organizations enable the students of Vernon High School to associate with our personal community. They are the link between the school and "the outside world." Each student in an organization can find his own personal place in this PERSONAL PLACE.

Artist William Clay captures the feeling of nature in open country, which is a characteristic personal to our area.
Student Council representatives and officers are pictured after a meeting in the library where they discussed the sale of mums. Representatives are selected by vote in the homeroom.

Council Governs Body

The 1975 Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Raymond Boykin, makes up the student to school relationship. They organize such activities as Veteran's Day Assembly, Homecoming Queen, Mum Sale, All-School Favorites, Class Favorites, Election of Valentine Queen, Election of Cheerleaders and Mascot, and best of all, Twirp Week. A representative and alternate elected from each homeroom serves on the council. They also work on activities concerning the improvement of Vernon High School. Student Council is the go-between for student body with the faculty. They learn to organize events as well as present student requests to the school board. The Council meets one time every two months in the library during 4th period.
Language Clubs
Enjoy Activities

The Pan American Club and the French Club both are limited to those students who are taking or have taken at least one year of that particular language. Sponsored by Miss Vicki Carden and Mrs. Kathy Brownlow, these clubs want to increase the knowledge and understanding of Spanish speaking and French speaking countries. They have sales, projects, parties, and banquets during the year.
FHA Enjoy Club
FFA Regards Ag

With its purpose to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, Future Homemakers of America involves girls of all class levels. A variety of activities is offered such as a trip to the State Fair and a Senior picnic. FFA members strive for agricultural leadership, citizenship, and cooperation. Their main project is selling oranges and grapefruits.
DE-ICT Gain Training

ICT, headed by Mr. Jimmy Smith, helps students in vocational skills. DE's purpose is to develop occupational competence and citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system. These clubs help members find a job and put responsibilities on their shoulders besides giving them the opportunity to earn money. Mr. Bill Speed, sponsor of DE says that these programs give the members a chance to learn how it feels to work. Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training members are junior and seniors.

(1) Working in the classroom is one part of Industrial Cooperative Training. Preparing for class recitation are seated Dean Hamilton and Harry Thompson. Standing are Victor Overby, Phillip Ashby, and Dick Webb. (2) Elected Distributive Education Club officers were Alvin Turkett, president; Sue Ann Denison, secretary; Millard Patterson, treasurer; Mr. Bill Speed, advisor; Darrell Gower, vice president; and Alison Ansel, reporter. (3) ICT officers pictured with advisor, Mr. Jimmy Smith are Kevin Morgan, president; Dick Webb, parliamentarian; Phillip Ashby, vice president; Sherry Allen, reporter; and Kathy Sutton, secretary. Not pictured is Mike Craighead, treasurer.
VOE And HECE Give Experience

VOE encourages the development of occupational skills and helps students toward a career choice in office occupation. They have workshops, parties and banquets as well as make a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. HECE is planned to include programs, business meetings, community projects, and many money-making projects. They also have many parties and an all-year project which is to have secret pals at Woods Nursing Home.

(1) Vocational Office Education officers are Sarah Lehman, Historian; Carmen Haro, Reporter; Leann Talley, Secretary-Treasurer; DeAnn Klien, Vice President; and Julie Browning, President. (2) Officers of Home Economics Cooperative Education stand by Judy Kieschnick advisor. Kathy May serves as President; Kay Syrus, historian; Pam Parmer, vice president; Patsy Dunn, secretary-treasurer; Rita Townson, reporter. (3) Vocational Office Education members are listed in the Organization Directory. (4) Home Economics Cooperative Education members are listed in the Organization Directory.
The members of the 1975 annual staff include Rhonda Pistole, Dawn McGee, Taz Thomas, Pam Hardin, John Streit, Debbie Reese, Amy Hightower, Deana Wright, Mark Lehman, Lydia King, Mary Ann Kubicek, Jim Parmer, and Lora Hopper. (2) Mrs. Pace meets with the quad-editors of the 1975 yearbook, Pam Hardin, Lydia King, Debbie Reese, and Lora Hopper, along with the Roar editor Mary Ann Kubicek, to discuss layouts for the coming year. (3) The Journalism I class publishes the Roar. Members of the 1975 Roar staff are listed in the Organizations Directory.

1975 Journalism
Staffs And Editors

The Journalism II students make up the 1975 Annual Staff. Their sole purpose is to create the best yearbook possible. Four people from the Journalism II class are picked to be editors of the annual. This year's quad-editors are: Lydia King, editor of Class; Pam Hardin, editor of Organizations; Lora Hopper and Debbie Reese, editors of Activity section. Mary Ann Kubicek was selected editor of the Roar. The newspaper staff is made up of Journalism I students.

Class

As each person looks through the class section of this book, he will laugh at his own picture or compliment another's. The class section is usually the first section a person turns to, for that is where everybody is located. This section is where each and every person has found his own personal place for he knows as long as he has this book his picture will always be in its own special little box waiting for someone to flip through the pages of the yearbook right to it. A person may not be in an organization or club, but he is in the class section. Also, the class section can be used later as a pictorial file of the students attending school the 1974-75 school year. A person might find his personal place as a leader of his class. Also, two people from each class have been selected by classmates to be the favorites of his or her class. Teachers find their own personal place in the classroom, being the instructor.

The sketch, opposite, could be a sun rising or a sun setting on the prairie. As in a day, the sunrise could signify the beginning of a freshmen's high school career on his first day of school. The sun setting could be a senior's joyful walk across the stage to receive his diploma, thus ending his high school life, but knowing the continuancy of the future.

"Memories are made of these," one person stated. He is right. Memories are remembering each individual of the students' crazy campus life, and just plain "clowning around." These make up memories.

This sketch by William Clay entitled "Prairie Sunset" shows a brilliant sunset on the horizon of the countryside.

Seniors Reach End of Personal Trail

Looking back over our four years at Vernon High School, we the seniors now realize it really was not all that bad. When we first came to high school as freshmen, we wondered if we would ever be seniors. The seniors that year taunted us, but we survived. We had many new experiences at this new place. There were pep rallies and queen crowning to attend. As sophomores, we felt we were on our way to the top. Still more areas to participate in were offered to us. We were above the freshman and that was something. Next came our junior year. Our big project was the Junior-Senior Banquet. Raising money for it was fun, but hard work also. But we gave the senior class of 1974 a great Junior-Senior Banquet. Or, we felt so, after we had worked for it so long.

Then our year finally came. We were seniors. The first of the year went by like lightening. It did not seem like a special year, until football season was over and we wondered where the year had gone. Soon it was time to attend our first senior party. That really made us stop and think. As the year progressed we got more excited. The year ended with the finding of our personal place among the clustered memories of our four years. We will always be a part of V.H.S.

Class Officers Plan Many New Activities

The Juniors, making their presence known to all in Vernon High School, now look forward to being the Senior Class of 1976. With the new experience of becoming upper classmen come new responsibilities. The Juniors were able to participate in HECE and DE. Such extracurricular activities in which they were involved were journalism, drama, and possibly National Honor Society.

The Juniors were responsible for raising money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Days were filled with Junior students saying; "Please buy a key chain." Selling programs at football games was another way Juniors made money for the banquet.

Juniors began to become familiarized with the taking of long and monotonous tests. They had the opportunity to take the ACT, ITED, AND PAST-NMSQT tests to prepare them for their senior year and not so far away prospect of graduation.

One of the highlights of the Junior's year was the acquiring of Senior rings. This event marked a growth in Maturity for the members of the class of '76. As the year Progressed, Juniors found their personal place becoming more cherished. Although they were looking forward to their Senior year, the Juniors realized that graduation and a new lifestyle was rapidly drawing near.

Sophomores Settle Into School Routines

Sophomores found their personal place in Vernon High School more secure and settled than their freshman year had proven. Sophomores, after one year of experience, knew the ropes and were well adjusted to normal high school life. It was a good feeling to be looked up to by the underclassmen.

Because they were able to be involved in more activities, Sophomores felt more a part of the campus life. Many sophomore boys became first time members of the 1974 Varsity Lion Football team and received letter jackets for their outstanding achievements. Sophomore girls, at the same time, had the opportunity to run for cheerleader and get into the Drill Team, thus showing more spirit and pride for their alma mater.

Along with the fun of extracurricular activities came much hard work in such classes as English, Biology, Government, and Geometry. Sophomores realized that with their increased responsibility, they must prove themselves capable and mature enough to handle it. Their classes required more outside time while extra-curricular activities began to claim more time.

After a year of truly being a part of Vernon High School and the activities connected with it, the Sophomore Class of '77 feels that they are ready to advance to the ranks of being a Junior.

Freshmen Make Proud Debut in School

Coming to high school was a new, exciting, and different experience for the freshman class of the 1974-75 year. The first day was filled with upperclassmen making fun of and giving these freshmen a hard time. Then came the first pep rally they got to attend instead of just hearing about it through older students. Next came the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and later, Valentine Queen. The freshmen began to find their own personal place in their school and social lives. There was an abundance of clubs to join, depending on the person’s interest, such as the Spanish Club, French Club, J.E.T.S. Club, Aviation Club, Latin Club, etc. New kinds of subjects were offered which included Physical Science, Biology, Algebra I, Geometry, Homemaking, and Vocational Agriculture.

As the days stretched into weeks and then into months, the freshmen became accustomed to seeing upperclassmen and actually found out that they were real people too. Lasting friendships developed, and the scary thoughts of the past summer about high school life were now to be laughed at.

Freshmen found out that the teachers at VHS were no different from their past teachers, but if the homework was harder, they realized it was only because they were older and could accomplish more.
The Tired faces of freshmen Sandra Hughes and Angie Nava reflect the fact high school life can be exhausting.
After completing the freshman achievement tests, Bambi Rader and Laurie Yoakum return to school quite bewildered.

Seniors Discover Their Personal Place

(1) Deana Wright stands amazed at the Homecoming Bonfire. (2) Rhonda Pistole sits cautiously on the street corner hoping no one "runs" the light. (3) Cyndy Walker smiles happily at a local rally. (4) Wayne Reece and Tanna Pierce smile knowingly as they contemplate their big senior year. (5) A group of seniors "play" practice. (6) Senior Ken Koontz is measured for his cap and gown by classmate Kevin Morgan. (7) "Lions are great. They're Alive. Says the Class of '75."
Prepared to assist the students of Vernon High School is Mr. James Easley, principal. Although the responsibilities of principal are numerous, Mr. Easley faces his duties with integrity. He is ready to aid students and faculty with any problem that may arise. During a school day, Mr. Easley works with school curriculum, dress codes, maintenance of order, student discipline and other individual needs of students.

Mr. Easley, a graduate of Austin College, is respected by the students and faculty for his ability in running Vernon High School in a smooth manner. His previous experience as administrator, coach, and teacher give him the special qualities necessary for his job.

Ready to assume the responsibilities of running the school in the absence of the principal is Mr. Louis Boynton, Assistant Principal. Among his many duties are issuing absence permits, administering discipline and enrolling new students. Each day brings new experiences such as lost books, wandering students, long hair, and trash can fires.

In addition to his Assistant Principal duties, Mr. Boynton serves as track coach. Through his many activities, Mr. Boynton keeps a smile on his face and keeps up the spirit of Vernon High School.
Counselors Help
In Varied Ways

Vernon High School's two counselors, Mr. Charles Bursey and Mrs. Agnes Russell. Besides counseling students with their problems, they are responsible for the whole testing program in the Vernon Consolidated School District. The testing program includes such tests as the Achievement Tests, preference tests, PSAT/NMSQ, ACT, and SAT. Mr. Bursey and Mrs. Russell give their time and energies to help Senior college bound students by giving them information on scholarships, filling out application forms, and giving basic information about the different colleges and universities. If a student has a problem, a counselor will listen to him and help him find a solution. The guidance library is full of information concerning many junior colleges, universities, and vocational schools. Also, the guidance library contains information on different vocations and job opportunities.

Mrs. Mary Kingsley and Mrs. Janice Hooper are the secretaries at Vernon High. Mrs. Kingsley, commonly known as the registrar, enrolls the new students and records the attendance. Mrs. Hooper acts as the secretary to the guidance department.

(1) Mr. Charles Bursey smiles when he thinks of all the valuable information to be found in the guidance library.

(2) Giving tests all day to Juniors is no small task, just ask Mrs. Agnes Russell, but she still seems able to smile.

(3) Vernon High secretaries, Mrs. Mary Kingsley and Mrs. Janice Hooper, are two new faces around the school.
Major Decisions Made For School

People at the Board of Education realize that to have a good school system there must be a good administration. These four men, Mr. Harold Beam, superintendent; Mr. Louie Lee Holder, assistant superintendent; Mr. Robert Orr, curriculum director; and Mr. Robert McNairy, business manager, are the backbone of the administrative side of the school. All of these men make important decisions from day to day to better the Vernon Consolidated School District.

Members of the Vernon School Board are elected by the citizens of the Vernon community for three year terms. These seven trustees govern the schools in this district.

(1) Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Harold Beam, in addition to a myriad of tasks, serves as liaison between school and town.

(2) Mr. Robert McNairy, business manager, numbers computerized payrolls, bill-payment, and bookkeeping among his duties.

(3) Mr. Robert Orr, curriculum director, and Mr. Louie Lee Holder, assistant superintendent, discuss a bond issue.
During the November session of the Vernon School Board, trustees discussed the building project, shown are: Mr. Louie Holder, assistant superintendent; Dr. Frank Sims, Mr. Ben Wagner, Mr. Floyd Graf, and Mr. Harold Beam, superintendent. Not shown are Mr. Heber Brantley, Mr. Glen Cato, Dr. Marvin Sharp, Mr. James King, Mr. Robert Orr, curriculum director, and Mr. Robert McNairy. The Vernon School Board meets once every month on the second Tuesday night at the Board of Education Building.
Sports

Many areas of sports are now available to everybody. Each individual can choose the sport in which he wishes to participate. Each sport brings a personal feeling to those involved in them. Competition in sports unifies the school and the community and lets the individual show his self-pride.

Sports this year was not totally emphasized on boys’ sports as the girls contributed much to the program. Girls’ basketball and track are going as strong as ever. This gives the girls a chance to prove they are just as good as boys in some areas.

Sports is just not confined to those who participate, but also involves the fans who support the teams. Without the fans the teams could not perform as well and the spirit would not be as strong. The thrill of cheering your team on to victory and then celebrating with them and then feeling the hurt of your team when it loses, makes the fan a part of every sport. The fans of Vernon are some of the best in the world as they always support every sport.

Sports play a big part in the lives of the students who are involved. They will remember the happiness and the sadness they experienced in sports. They will have both good memories and bad ones, but most of them good. The memories will linger through their minds for most of their life, because sports in high school is something you are only involved in once. This is why sports makes Vernon High School a personal place.

A feeling of loneliness is depicted in this sketch by William Clay, much like the lonely countryside around Vernon.
Vernon Lion players and coaches run through a victory line formed by hopeful and enthusiastic drill team fans. This picture exemplifies both the determination and pride the Lions had throughout the season and the spirit created by the fans.
Mighty Lions Led
By Two Captains

This year the Vernon Lions were led by captains Russell Pruitt and Bobby McMahen. These two young men carried a big responsibility on their shoulders by being captains. The captains are the middlemen between the coaches and the players. They work both for the good of the players and the coaches. Captains also play a big part in the success of a team during the season. The captains keep the team together during the year win or lose. This is why teams have players chosen to lead the team each year.

The captains are also depended on during the week and before the game to give the team spirit. The pep rallies and a few words from the coaches build the team spirit, but a talk from the captains seem to arouse the spirit even more. Every week before a game the captains would give their teammates a pep talk. Russell would always open his pep talk with “Well here we are again,” while Bobby didn’t say much. These are some of the many duties the captains do.

Russell Pruitt and Bobby McMahen represented the Vernon Lions. They were leaders both on the field and off the field. Russell Pruitt was a three year starter at the guard and center positions for the Lions. Bobby McMahen was a two year letterman who started at halfback this season for Vernon. They were both fine examples of what captains are supposed to be.

Five Coaches Work With Players

Varsity coaches for the year include Ronnie Stout, Jabe Brazzle, Don Berry, Ronnie Bourland, and Bobby Stevens.

Coach Bourland, first year varsity coach, explains to Steve Cooner during an important game that “You are better than him.”

Coaches Instruct Varsity Gridders

This year five coaches instructed the varsity players. Under the guidance of Head Coach Don Berry, they molded the Vernon Lions into a strong ball club. The coaches not only prepare the Lions for football games but also for life. The coaches play important roles in the lives of the players.
Lions Edged In First Two Games

After putting on tremendous battles the Vernon Lions fell short to Mineral Wells 39-27 and to Altus 28-15. In both games the Lions trailed at halftime but made gallant comebacks in both games. The Lions showed that offense was not a weak point as they scored 27 points against a strong Mineral Wells club. In the Altus game, the defense, after giving up 28 points in the first half, held the Bulldogs scoreless in the second half. The Lions showed in both games that they are a team that never quits.

Quarterback Pat Harris (18) picks up some short yardage before being stopped by Altus' L. C. Fellemon.

Fullback Roy Wright (28) scores an important touchdown against Mineral Wells through the blocks of Kim Kidd (72), Greg Cooner (60), and Russell Pruitt (62).
Lions Roll Past Lobos And Frogs

A third period score for Vernon gave the Lions a water-logged 6-0 victory over Levelland. Neither team could score in the first half as both teams fought each other and the rain. A 15-yard touchdown run by Roy Wright provided the victory margin.

Lake Worth

Leslie's wrecking crew went to work as Vernon romped to a 59-14 victory over the Lake Worth Bullfrogs. Vernon never trailed in the game as the offense rolled to 467 yards total offense, and the defense played one of their best games. Easter, Leslie, McMahen, Haney, Embers, and Wright all scored touchdowns for Vernon.

Ray Tanner (88) bulls through the Lobo's defense for good yardage. The Lions fought the Lobos and the rain to win 6-0.

Bobby McMahen (26) finds the running tough as Kim Kidd (72) and Terry Jones (66) look on. Vernon won 59-14.
Vernon opened District 4-AAA Play with a thrilling 19-13 win over the Burkburnett Bulldogs. The Lions wasted no time in scoring as speedy Russ Haney went 90 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff. Burkburnett came back and the score stood at 6-6 at halftime. The Lions scored again early in the fourth quarter on Roy Wright's 13-yard run. John Leslie then romped 74 yards for Vernon's final score of the night. Burkburnett scored again on a 49-yard bomb to close the score to a 19-13, but the Vernon defense held Burk late in the game to preserve the Lion's 19-13 victory.

Johnny Embers, a Vernon Lion fullback, attempts to break a tackle as he races for yardage in the Burkburnett game.

James Easter heads for the goal against Burk, assisted by the blocking of Mike Railsback (46), L. D. Favors (80), Terry Jones (66), and Scott Bearden (63).
Vernon Triumphs Over Y’Jackets

Unleashing an awesome running attack the Vernon Lions rolled to a 33-27 victory over Stephenville. It was the Lions fourth straight victory. The Lions trailed during the first quarter 13-7 but, took control of the game with 19 points in the second quarter. The Lions opened up a 20-point lead at one time, but the Yellowjackets narrowed the victory margin to only six, with two second-half touchdowns. Easter, Railsback, McMahan, and Wright all scored touchdowns for Vernon. The victory left the Lions undefeated in District 4-AAA play with a 2-0 record.

Making the tackle on a Stephenville Yellowjacket are Lions Allan Sharp (14), Jim Parmer (53), and Kim Kidd (72).

Russ Haney is stopped as Roy Wright, Scott Bearden, Kim Kidd, Greg Coomer and L.D. Favors converge on the action.
B'wood Runs Past
The Lions 40-0

The Battle of the two undefeated teams in district 4-AAA ended with Brownwood taking a 40-0 win over the Vernon Lions. It appeared that the contest was to be a defensive game when neither team succeeded in scoring during the first quarter. However, Brownwood took command of the second quarter and the teams left the field at half with a score of 20-0. Brownwood put across two more touchdowns in the third quarter; but Vernon held them to six points in the last quarter. Roy Wright and Bobby McMahen were the leading rushers for the Vernon offense.

Junior Russ Haney (11), a second year letterman, almost picks off a pass, making a key defensive play against Brownwood.

L. D. Favors, (80), tackled by a Graham player after a gain of 47 yards in the opening kickoff of the second half.

A Graham defender hauls down Vernon's Russ Haney (11), while John Leslie (16) comes in to assist on the play.

Graham Slips By Tough Lions 7-6

A first-quarter score by Graham provided the margin for victory enroute to a 7-6 District 4-AAA win over the Vernon Lions. Graham took possession of the football late in the first quarter and scored. The Lions scored their only touchdown of the night on Roy Wright's 2 yard run. A missed extra point provided the victory for Graham. This left Vernon's record 2-2.
Vernon Lions homecoming spirit was dampered by the loss to the Iowa Park Hawks with the score 28-0. After a hard head-knocking District 4-AAA affair the “Mean Green” Hawks left no doubt that they rightfully deserved their No. 8 State Class ranking. The Hawks shut off the Lions’ scoring, but not until after the Lions had showed Iowa Park they were real. The Lions sophomore middle linebacker Mike Morrow played one of the best defensive games of the year.

Mike Railshock (46), prepares to converge on Iowa’s David Ross (40), while other Vernon players come in to assist.

Bobby McMahan runs for extra yardage while teammates John Leslie (16), and Ray Tanner (88) provided the blocking.
Weatherford ’Roos Overpower Lions

"Offense," was the name of the game when Weatherford overpowered the Lions 54-27. Both teams moved the football down the field for high scoring game. The ’Roos scored a blistering 35 points the first half and 19 the second half. Led by outstanding rushers Bobby McMahan, James Easter, and Roy Wright, and pass offense of Pat Harris, Ray Tanner, and Mike Railsback, the Vernon Lions scored two touchdowns the first half and two the second half, matching Weatherford’s two completed touchdowns in the fourth quarter of thirteen points.

Lions End Season With 4-6 Record

The Vernon Lions finished out their 1974 season with a 4-6 record. The Lions went through many successes and many failures during the year, but set the pattern for the teams to follow in the years to come. The Lions showed pride and determination throughout this year and they all performed well. The Lions also depended heavily on the juniors and the sophomores. Even though the Lions were not District 4-AAA champions, they are still champions in the hearts of the Lions fans. All and all, it was a good year for the Vernon Lions.

Nine Gridders
Receive Honors

This year's edition of the Vernon Lions had nine players earn district honors. This is a great tribute to the players and the coaches. This honor lets the individual player know he is one of the best in his position.

This year Vernon placed two on the all-district first team. They were seniors Russell Pruitt and Mike Railsback. Russell earned his honor at right guard. Mike receives his all-district rating at defensive cornerback.

The Lions also had three players on the all-district second team. They were Bobby McMahen, Mike Morrow, and Charles Norton. Bobby received this honor for his great performances at halfback. Charles received his honor for defensive end. Mike was singled out for his play at middle-linebacker. Vernon also had four players named to the honorable mention list. These were seniors John Leslie, Allan Sharp, Kim Kidd, and junior Roy Wright. John was the outstanding quarterback for Vernon this year. Allan was a head-hunter at the defensive safety position. Kim was a mainstay in the offensive line at tackle. Roy was a hard-running fullback for the Lions. All of these players deserved their district honors.

This interception by Allan Sharp (14) shows why he was considered one of the best in District 4-AAA.
Managers Play Important Role

Even though it looks like all you need for a football team is players and coaches the team would not be complete without some other people. These people are the trainers, managers, and the team doctor. Without these people a team could not make it through a season. This year the trainers were seniors Mark Lehman and Gerald Proctor. These two guys took care of all the minor injuries of the players. They also ran most of the errands for the coaches and did many other things. They brought the dummies, footballs, and the extra equipment on the field. The trainer's life is not an easy one. The manager for this year was freshman Phil Hardcastle. He got to do all the stuff the trainers didn't want to do. Being just a freshman, he got a lot of harrassment from the players, but it was all in fun. Phil was the one who ran back and forth between the fieldhouse and the practice field. The team doctor, Dr. John Hardin, was also very important. He was there every game in case a player was hurt. He was also a good Lion fan besides being a good doctor. These people all played important roles during the season and should be given credit for their efforts.

Little Lion Craig Templeton gets some of the great juice prepared by the managers for the players.

Team physician, Dr. John Hardin, always ready to lend both medical aid and spiritual backing to the players.

Spirit Prevails
In Mean Thirteen

Being small in stature and small in number did not bother the Vernon Cougars as they fought to a successful season. The Cougars made their presence felt on every ball club they faced. Even when the odds were heavily against them they came through. Each player knew they had to give their all to even out the odds. The Cougars showed great team and individual spirit and the talent necessary to become Vernon Lions someday. The Cougars fully exemplified what having pride is all about and that you can accomplish anything if you try.

Jackson Jordon, David Byrd, and Lynn Tyra are the captains of the '74 Cougars. They provide outstanding leadership for the team.
L. J. Briggs (32) finds the going tough after making a good gain against Vernon. Vernon won the game 20-14.

Vernon’s Jimmy Halencak (42) makes a fine defensive play on an Iowa Park player. Myron Handley (87) comes in to help.

Cubs Start Football Career in High School

The first year of high school football is quite a new experience. You meet new coaches and learn new techniques about football. The first year also moves you closer to becoming a Vernon Lion someday. The Cubs found out that there is a lot more hard work involved than in Junior High days. This year’s Cubs met the responsibilities and enjoyed a successful season. Very few times did the Cubs leave a game as a loser. The Cubs were good on offense and tough on defense and will become the great Vernon Lions in the future.

Coaches Larry Hope, Geary Coker, and Bill Sims provided the needed guidance essential for a victorious season.

Basketball
Despite predictions that the 1975 season would be one of rebuilding with a team made up primarily of young and inexperienced Lions, Coach Geary Coker and his varsity surprised both supporters and adversaries with a 15-15 record.

On the heels of Vernon's first district cage win in 18 years, the Lion roundballers let determination and fine coaching raise them above what should normally have been a poor season, after the loss of four starring seniors.

With only two returning seniors, the team was made up of only one junior and five sophomores.

Starting slowly in district play the Lions lost four games in the first round, defeating only Stephenville and Iowa Park. In the second round, the Lions dropped their first two games to Brownwood and Iowa Park but returned to defeat Stephenville, Burkburnett and Weatherford who tied for first place in the first round, and Graham.

Coach Coker came to Vernon last year from Mexia where he was varsity basketball coach.

Skill Required

Making up in spirit for their lack of experience as a team, the varsity Lions gave their fans a wide-screen view of speed, physical endurance, perfect timing, and ball-handling dexterity.

On the hardwoods, it was imperative that each player be in top physical condition to maintain the fast pace of top flight basketball.

Played in the dead of winter, basketball proved to be one of the liveliest of the Lion athletic programs — a personal sport for fans and players at close range.

Vernon's Russ Haney (25) has no room to shoot as he is surrounded by two Brownwood players. Vernon lost the game 49-44.

Volleyball Becomes A Powerful Sport

Power volleyball, a modernized version of an old favorite sport for women has been reactivated in Vernon High for the past several years and serves as one of the basics units for competitive sports for the fair sex.

Coached this year by Mr. Glenn Schell, power volleyball is one of the spring sports. This fast-paced game will see Lionettes competing in a district tournament to be held in Graham on March 22.

During the 1974 season, the female Lions won the South Plains Tournament in Levelland and hosted and won the Vernon Power Volleyball Tournament.

Involving six players on the court, power volleyball has two sets and four spokes pursuing an involved set of rules, fast motion, and ability to think while in action: all this adding up to a fun game with teamwork and loyalty.
Pride Is Instilled In Volleyball Players

Pride and determination are what makes a volleyball team achieve success at winning. These are personal feelings, but each member of the team must possess them in order to become a skilled player.

Hours of practice are put in by dedicated players, much as in any other sport. Volleyball is no longer thought of by these girls as just a slap-around game at which to laugh. It is fun, but hard work is involved too.

The coach is an important factor in a team sport. With the fine coaching staff at Vernon High, players have no need to worry about a lack of instruction.

Thinclads Take To Cinders For Records

Opening their 1975 season by copping a first place win at the Iowa Park relays held in Burkburnett, Coach Louis Boynton's thinclands held onto their winning ways that have become a habit at Vernon High.

Never having posted a poor season's record, Vernon's cindermen opened this season by breaking meet records and starting on the familiar road to state meet in Austin.

Ably coached by coaches Louis Boynton, Ronnie Stout and Larry Hope, the track team shows strong team loyalty as well as individual performance.

Both team and spectators look forward to a special season of shattered records and a very personal place for track in our personal place.
Hurdlers for 1975 are Bobby McNairy, Glen Raschke, Wayne Reece, James Easter, Bobby McMahen, and L. J. Briggs.

Wayne Reece and Bobby McMahen are the top hurdlers in District 4-AAA and have displayed their ability all through track season.

Long distance runners Steven Lewis and Arthur Hernandez strive for perfection in their events during track season.

Juniors Roy Wright and Russ Haney work out for the 440-yard dash. David broke the record in 440 in the Hawk Relays.
Speedsters Alfred Arrant and Johnny Embers burn up the cinders with their warm-up race early in the season.

Alfred Arrant, Roy Wright, Bobby McMahon, and Russ Haney, Lion mile relay team, show promise after fine performance in their first meet. All four are returning lettermen.

Bobby McNairy, junior trackman, takes the high hurdles with plenty of speed and room to spare. Showing good form, Bobby was ready for the Vernon Relays hosted by the Lions on February 28.
Heavyweights of the track team include Steve Cooner, Charles Norton, and Greg Cooner. Specialists with the shot and discus, these young Lions show fine promise for the 1975 track season. Steve is a junior letterman and Charles and Greg are sophomores.

Johnny Embers, James Easter, Stephen Lewis and L. J. Briggs, backup 440 relay team, have showed the beginnings of a fine season.

Track coaches are Ronnie Stout, Larry Hope and Louis Boynton.
Number one 440 relay team made up of Alfred Arrant, Russ Haney, Bobby McMahan, and Wayne Reece made a great showing in early workouts and at their first meet.

Mike Railsback and Allan Sharp are two vaulters upon whom the Lions field men will depend. Mike already this season has set a new record at Iowa Park Relays.
Members of freshman track team are:

Freshman Glendal Raschke goes over another hurdle in perfect form. It takes time and practice to be a good hurdler.
Girls' Track
Outlook Is Bright For Lady Cindermen

Julie Browning, senior trackster, takes the low hurdles in a practice session on Lion Stadium track. Julie has been in the track program for the past three years.

Abigail Frater, Sherry Gaines, and Pearlie Mae Reece practice the 100 yard dash with keen competition. All three speedy dashers are sophomore students.
Linksters Set Eyes On District Crown

With a bright outlook for the season, Coach Bobby Stephens' Lion Golfers set their eyes on another district crown after taking their first tournament of the year — the Vernon Chapparal Invitational Meet at Vernon Regional Junior College.

Practicing on the links at Hillcrest Country Club, the Vernon team shows strength this season according to press and coaches.

As a sport, golf teaches the patience necessary for a game involving strategy and skill while players repeatedly practice swings and puts to improve their games.

Returning lettermen included seniors David Harris, Randy Rallis, and Scott Bearden. All other lettermen were sophomores Robert Sheridan and Ray Tanner.

Coach Bobby Stephens
David Harris, a third year letterman on the golf team, is in contention for medalist honors in District 4-AAA.

Senior Randy Rallis, also heading for district honors, shows good form during practice at Hillcrest Country Club.

With a year's experience on the team, sophomore Robert Sheridan has proven to be a constant asset to the Lion team.

Sophomore Mike Morgan is developing into a strong player for Vernon in only his first year of competitive play.
Coach Bobby Stephens works hard devoting hours of leadership and encouragement to his team. During spring practice his advice and willingness to help is much appreciated by the Lion golfers.

Watching members of the Vernon Lion golf team tee off, Coach Bobby Stephens concentrates on ways of improving the form and ability of his young players in preparation for a future tournament.

With the experience of returning lettermen backed up by the enthusiasm of new members, the 1975 golf team looks forward to a chance of achieving district honors this year. Under the leadership of Coach Bobby Stephens, the team has advanced in skill and discipline and possesses the other major ingredients, such as concentration and stamina, for a winning team.

Throughout the season, practice goes on daily at the Hillcrest Country Club for these dedicated players. Individual skill is required, but to win team championships, a unity must exist among the golfers.

During practice at the Country Club, senior Scott Bearden works to increase his accuracy at putting on the green.
Lion Netters Anticipate District Win

With several top-seeded players returning for the 1975 Lion netters, Coach Mary Ann Rader's tennis team early in the season promise of a district victory.

In a highly competitive and personal sport, netters at VHS also enjoy the team responsibility as well as individual achievement.

In her first year at Vernon High School, Mrs. Rader formerly was tennis coach and girls' physical education teacher at Intermediate School.

Tennis coach Mary Ann Rader demonstrates the proper way to smash a short lob in one of the Lion's practices.
Senior team member Deana Wright practices the form of her serve. Deana possesses the skill needed to be a winner.

Follow-through technique is demonstrated by veteran Deana Wright. Tennis requires much concentration and endurance.

Deana Wright returns a serve during a practice session. Deana shows great promise as she prepares to become District Champ.

Larry Doty, junior member of the VHS tennis team keeps an eye on the ball that his opponent is returning to him.

With a look of determination and a desire to win, Drucy Craig-head skillfully returns the ball to her opponent.
Determination, a necessary part of a player's attitude, is seen on the face of sophomore student Karen Yoakum.

Another new member of the VHS team is freshman Paul Lindley. The freshmen have added number and depth to the ever-growing tennis program.

Peggy Wilson, also a sophomore student, demonstrates the importance of watching the ball until contact is made.

Tennis captains Deana Wright and Larry Doty were responsible for providing leadership and team spirit to members.
Springtime of 1975 marked the return of the great American pastime to Vernon High for UIL competition when a Lion baseball team was fielded with Coach Jabe Braxxle taking on the mentorship of the newly formed club.

Anticipating a season filled with learning, the knights of the diamond also showed promise of considerable talent and a fair number of wins for a beginning season.

Practicing on a field north of Lion Stadium the newly formed team took to workouts late in February following the basketball season. Games will be played at Kid League Park which is operated and supported by the Lion's service club of Vernon.
Advertising

Although V.H.S. is depicted as a personal place for its students, the support of businessmen and merchants of Vernon and nearby towns make the community a personal place for students and townspeople as well. Advertising is one way to create a personal effect in a community. It is also the mainstay of the V.H.S. Yamparika. Without advertising there would be no funds to publish a yearbook which keeps forever the memories of four short years in high school. It shows each personal business and depicts the community's current progress and success compared to other areas in the state. Advertising shows the true support and the backing of the town because it is something that is not forced upon the businessmen, but something that they willingly do to provide a pleasure to the students involved in any kind of activity. Advertising brings the community and the realization that they will soon be a part of this community.

V.H.S. should consider itself lucky to have such a large response to advertising and everything else that is a successful school activity. Vernon has maintained a constant supply of funds since V.H.S. published the first Yamparika. Staffs through the years have realized that this enthusiasm has enabled many kinds of awards to fall into the hand of the school. Advertising is just one of the projects of the community which makes all of Vernon a personal place for its people.

The 1975 Girls Fellowship of Christian Athletes are Julie Betts, Becky Koontz, Monica Lovelace, Patricia Mayberry, Lisa Bingham, Lindi May, Jackie McLaughlin, Donna Koch, Lisa Lambert, Joann Carter, Bambi Rader, Laurie Yoakum, D'Yon Hawkins, Vicki Allen, Deborah Gordon, Laverne Wilson, Pearlie Mae Reece, Kim Spraberry, Allison Hightower, Kathy Zalcek, Brenda King, Tammy Barnes, Marion Wooldridge, Tracey Harvey, Terri McKay, Sandra Hughes, Gail Gibbs, and Abbie Gail Frater.

“T give up!” exclaims “Roar” editor, Mary Ann Kubicok. Mary Ann was a valuable assistant to the Yampaika staff.
Sports editor Jim Parmer grabs a bite of lunch, draws a Quad pack, writes copy for track, and plans a baseball page all at the same time during the final deadline.

Photographer Taz Thomas finally found it was all too much for any human to endure and feigned suicide in the closet.
Dawn McGee, John Streit, and Taz Thomas say once again, "We're just one big happy family." A spirit of fierce loyalty prevailed as yearbookers returned to their personal place.
Deana Wright (back to camera) discusses advertising pictures with Charles and Linda Stewart, owners of Stewarts Studio who sometimes were called upon for services above and beyond the ordinary. Linda will always recall windmills.

Whee! says Mark Lehman who claims mother never told him there would be days like this when he applied for a yearbook job.

Mary Ann Kubicek, the Winged Victory of Samothrace, Debbie Reese, Lydia King and Jim Parmer decorate the steps of the old Ad Building during THSPA Convention at TWU in Denton.
Members of the 1975 staff strive to make this Yamparika find a personal place in the memories of everyone. Quad-Editors are Debbie Reese, Pam Hardin, Lora Hopper, and Lydia King, and Yearbook advisor is Mrs. Tom Pace. On the windmill are MaryAnn Kubicek, Amy Hightower, Rhonda Pistole, Dawn McGee, Jim Parmer, Deana Wright, John Striet, Taz Thomas, and Mark Lehman.
